

UPES specialized courses open newer avenues for students

Indore, May 17, 2017: University of Petroleum and Energy Studies (UPES) and global organizations have come together to develop specialized courses that will open newer career avenues for students. UPES is already teaching 15 computer science and engineering programs in academic collaborations with IBM and two new programs with specialization in Big Data and Dev-Ops with Netherland based IT organization-Xebia. For students interested in non-engineering career path, UPES has introduced three new programs this academic year. These new courses are B.A Economics with specialization in Energy Economics, BBA Accounting and Information Systems and BCA (with integrated training to earn industry certifications from Microsoft/SAP/Oracle/Cisco).

Speaking at a roundtable in Indore where UPES is organizing counselling sessions for city based students, Amit Prasad, Director-Enrollments, said, “UPES has designed specialised programs in high-growth sectors like oil & gas, power, infrastructure, IT, design, planning & architecture, public policy and legal studies. Curriculum of these programs is updated every year in consultation with our industry partners to ensure that our courses are completely aligned with what the industry actually demands. This is one of the reasons why our placement record goes as high as 90%”.
